

Dear customer,

Thank you very much for being a regular user of MINON AminoMoist products.

About the container of MINON AminoMoist Moist Charge Milk

Currently, we received a large numbers of orders for MINON AminoMoist Moist Charge Milk largely far exceeding our expectations.

Therefore, we are unable to respond to the orders with conventional container only, and we temporarily sell this item in three types of containers.

Types of containers (3 types)

- ① Conventional product
- ② Pump changed
- ③ Pump and bottle changed (without straw)

One of the three types (③) is a container without straw, but it is NOT a defective product.

Structure of the container ③

The container without straw ③ has two layers: an outer plastic container and an inner plastic bag.

By pushing the pump and discharge air, the inner plastic bag becomes vacuum, shrinks, and the milk is discharged. You can discharge without straw. (The outer plastic container and the inner plastic bag are in close contact with each other under unused status, and it is difficult to see the inner bag. But please be assured that it is a normal product.)

Points to be confirmed when using container ③ for the first time

When using it for the first time, gently tap the container on the palm of your hand, and collect the milk in the container at the bottom.

Push the pump slowly down until the contents come out and use it. (It will come out after 5 to 6 pushes.)

When the pump is removed during use, air will get in the inner plastic bag. Please note that the above work must be done again before re-use. There is no change in the contents and its volume.

Thank you for your understanding.
